MEMEL DEMANDS

Memel And

Nazi States Sought From Anglo-Envoys

LONDON, March 16—Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today the government has "under consideration" the question of calling Sir Neville Henderson, British Ambassador to Germany, home to report on Germany's annexation of Bohemia, Moravia and Slovakia.

Hitler May Strike Again
In Europe

BERLIN, March 16—A chance that Chancellor Hitler will now might strike swiftly to settle other unfinished Nazi business in Europe was seen today by foreign diplomatic circles.

Amid the Reichsfuehrer's triumph in breaking up what was left of the Czechoslovak republic after the Munich partitioning, these quarters discussed two dominant questions:

1.—How soon would Hitler move to return Danzig and Memel to Germany?

2.—How quickly would Hitler follow up his regenerated eastern push toward the dream of rich treasures in the Ukraine?

Despite the fact that the Fuehrer usually had permitted a full between successes, there was a chance now he might reverse the pendulum and strike immediately—particularly in the case of Danzig and Memel.

Today his armies are in control of Bohemia and Moravia and on guard in Slovakia. His forces, with apparent German acquiescence, have marched across Carpatho-Ukraine, the remaining fragment of free Czechoslovakia.

Early today the Hungarians established a common frontier with Poland.

Nazi occupation of Bohemia and Moravia trapped an estimated 30,000 Czech Jews and German social democrats—the latter among whom had planned to leave but miscalculated the speed of Hitler's moves.

Croats Also
Now Asking Independence

ROME, March 16—Croatian demands for independence from Yugoslavia were reported today in the Italian press on the heels of Chancellor Hitler's entry into Prague.

Asked whether the government "contemplate protesting to Germany against the invasion of Czechoslovakia," Mr. Chamberlain declined to answer immediately.

Then he said Sir Neville's recall was being considered. This was in answer to Neil Maclean, Labor, who asked him to "with-draw" British diplomatic representation in Berlin.

Nazi organizations in Great Britain are being watched "most closely," Geoffrey Lloyd, under-secretary for home affairs, declared in the House of Commons when questioned on the activities of the German "Brown House" in London.

"Why not throw out this Hitler organization altogether?" asked Geoffrey Mander.

No reply was made.

Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, indicated in the house that steps would be taken to make an exceptional transfer of Czechoslovak gold or balances without consultation with His Majesty's government. The statement was loudly cheered.

The British press assailed Germany for breaking up the Czechoslovak republic and hinted in Germany.

PARIS, March 16—A Havas News Agency dispatch from Berlin said it was reported that Dr. Ernst Neumann, "Fuehrer" of Memel, and the Nazi leaders of Danzig will demand immediate return of those territories to Germany today. Memel is an autonomous region of Lithuania. It is inhabited by a predominantly German population. Danzig, nominally a free city, has for several years past been under Nazi domination.

BERLIN, March 16—Chancellor Hitler today agreed to take Slovakia, "independent" central portion of broken Czechoslovakia, under his protection.

Dr. Joseph Tiso, who declared independence of Slovakia Tuesday under Hitler's guidance and promise of support, appeared to the German Fuehrer to take his country of 14,000 square miles and 2,400,000 population under his rule.

Telegraphed the Fuehrer, now at Prague:

"To supreme confidence in you, Fuehrer and Reichschancellor of greater Germany, the Slovak state places itself under your protection. The Slovak state begs you to take over this protection."

Hitler replied:

"I acknowledge receipt of your telegram of yesterday and herewith take over protection of the Slovak state."

PRAGUE, March 16—Chancellor Hitler in a decree issued from the ancient Hradec Castle of Prague, today charted the future of the ancient lands of Bohemia and Moravia as that of an "autonomous" province, "independent of the territory" of Germany.

BUDAPEST, March 16—Premier Paul Töley today told the wildly cheering Hungarian parliament today that "Carpatho-Ukraine becomes a part of the kingdom of Hungary."

The premier's announcement of annexation came as fierce street fighting was reported from Chust, capital of Carpatho-Ukraine, easternmost section of the shattered Czechoslovak republic, which Hungarian forces were slowly occupying.

(Warsaw dispatches said Hungarian troops had reached the border between Poland and Carpatho-Ukraine at two places.)

Czech policy declared Carpatho-Ukraine was "set up as an autonomous region" within Hungary and would "enjoy sweeping rights of self-government."

The premier asserted his government would be assisted by Ruthenian (Carpatho-Ukrainian) delegations pleading that the little land of mountains and forests be taken over by Hungary.

DECLARED INDEPENDENCE

The government of Carpatho-Ukraine, one of the three autonomous regimes of the shattered Czechoslovak federation, declared its independence Tuesday when Carpatho-Ukraine ceased to be.

By annexation, Hungary severed a common border with Poland and had long desired by Hungary previously had frowned on such

Idea of March for Hitler Again

By The Canadian Press

The Idea of March Have Come Again for Adolf Hitler

By carrying out his coup against Czechoslovakia he added another to the long list of major achievements accomplished in the third month of the year.

The series began in the first year of his regime. It was in March, 1933, that he won the last election under the Weimar Republic and became undisputed dictator of Germany.

Two years later, in March, he repudiated the restrictions of Versailles, restored universal compulsory military service, and announced a new German army of 12 corps numbering up to 500,000 men.

On March 7, 1936, Nazi Germany reoccupied the Rhineland. She obliterated the last military clauses of the Versailles Treaty. She denounced the Treaty of Locarno.

On March 11, 1938, Hitler took over Austria.

AND NOW, MARCH, 1939, HITLER HAS ASSUMED A PROTECTORATE OVER CZECHOSLOVAKIA.

Two Left-Alone
Kiddies Trapped
In Burning Home

ALBERTA DRIVE
BY RED CROSS
OPENS MAY 1

CALGARY, March 16—Annual financial campaign to raise $15,300 for the Alberta division, Canadian Red Cross, will be held May 1 to 7, said President J. A. MacLeod of Calgary today.

Two children, aged 3½ and 2, were overcome by smoke but rescued and the interior of a house was almost completely destroyed by flames that swept the home of William Pietz, 9216 110A avenue, shortly before 4 p.m. Wednesday.

Left alone in the house while their mother was visiting across the street, the two children, Raymond, 3½, and Bobby, 2, were trapped in the burning structure.

First to notice the fire was Orville Spenser, 11413 30 street, across the street from the burning home. He was driving his truck past the house when he saw flames. He stopped and entered the burning structure.

He found the two children in the house. He broke a window, entered the flaming building and found Bobby, the youngest, lying unconscious on the floor.

He handed him to an as yet unidentified man who entered the back door of the house, and who took the little boy out of the building.

FIREFMEN RESCUE

Firemen called to the blaze crashed into the burning house a few moments later to rescue young Raymond and grappled through smoke and flames to find the other child. Entering a back bedroom on the first floor of the two-story frame house, they found the child under a couch where he had crawled, trapped. He was badly burned.

Firemen "Bobby" Hobbs and George Crockett found the boy, and Crockett carried him out of the house to safety.

Trench Fighting In Carpatho-Ukraine
Takes Toll Of 100

By ROBERT PARKER

Associated Press Foreign Staff
WITH THE HUNGARIAN ARMY IN CARPATHO-UKRAINE, March 16—Trench fighting raged seven miles west of Chust, the provisional capital, this afternoon as the Hungarian army of occupation approached the little capital of Carpatho-Ukraine.

A Hungarian officer said that before noon 100 Hungarians had been killed or wounded.

He declared severe losses had been inflicted on Czech forces resisting Hungary's invasion of the easternmost section of broken Czechoslovakia.

Shortly before noon Hungarian troops, advancing to carry out the Budapest government's decree of annexation, encountered trenches and barbed wire entanglements which were being defended by Czech troops and Ukrainian forces.

Hungarian infantrymen, after a brief bombardment of the trench positions with field artillery, charged the trenches with fixed bayonettes at 1:15 p.m. (5:15 a.m. M.S.T.)

An hour later the issue was still uncertain.

'MRS. DOC' —By TOM HORNER

The characters and situations in this story are purely imaginary.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
ALAN WARREN: Ambitious young doctor.
EMILY WARREN: Alan's wife.
JIM KANE: Construction engineer.
JIM FARRELL: Alan's elderly assistant.

Yesterday, Alan places duty first. He leaves in a blizzard to attend to the filling station attendant to check his gasoline and oil.

It was at 4 o'clock, Doc, but the men who came down from the dam say I'll be drifted shut by morning. You have to go up there."

"Yes, Jimmy, I've got to go. I guess I'll make it all right. I won't go all the way up to the dam, just about half way."

"But Doc, that's more than 10 miles, and in this storm I'll take an hour or more. Look out for that new fill up to the dam, that's what you've got to go for. You've got to get the guard rail up yet—that could easily miss the road there and into the ditch. If you have any trouble, or get stuck, just sit tight and flash your lights and get your horns going. I know all those farmers up along there; I'll phone and tell them to be watching for you."

"Thanks Jim but I'll get through. But it's good to know that people will be looking out for me along the route—just in case."

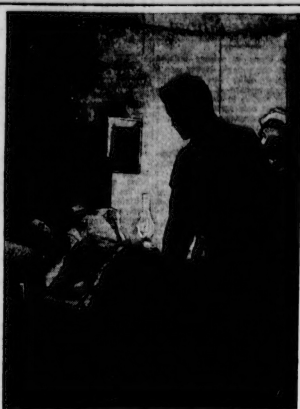

It was a comfortable feeling Alan thought again as street lights dimmed behind him and the darkness of the open country closed in on him. Only the steady purr of the motor and the rattle of his chains against the frozen road broke the silence.

The snow was heavier now, borne on an icy gale. Handled as he was, inside his heated car, Alan could still feel its chill. The road was white now one else was fool enough to venture out in such a storm, he thought grimly. But, then, no one else had the reason, the impelling force that he had.

For this drive through storm and snow to relieve pain—he had worked and dreamed since boyhood. For this he had spent years in schools, more years in hospitals. His father had driven through storms, just as he was doing now. But that first Dr. Alan Warren had driven a team and ridden in an open sleigh, not in a warm automobile.

Alan hardly remembered his father, but Farrell had known him well. It was Farrell, then, associated with Alan's father who had brought him to this place. He was a young son of that first—and last—black and white and it was Farrell who had guided the lad to medicine, constantly reminding Alan of the heritage his father—a country doctor—had bequeathed him.

A light flashed past to the right. That would be Price, Jimmy had said after all and Price had turned on the light at the gate, to let him get his bearings. Alan flashed lights, and sped on. Price would be waiting at the window until he passed. Good old Happy Price. Alan's father had brought his first son; Alan had ushered his first grandson into the world.

Jimmy's warning about the new fill hadn't been exaggerated. Alan thought as he pulled out of a ditch, slacked his speed and then went on around the curve. A few feet more and he might have gone over the edge. Well, he hadn't and he was more than half way now. But the ferry's road would be next and then Carroll's corner.

Snow caked his windshield. Emily cursed his windshield. Emily cursed the tiny area kept warm by the electric heater and cleaned by the beating wiper blade. Alan peered out, trying to see beyond the limited range of his headlights. Everything was white, where the lights shone, then impenetrable blackness.

Suddenly out of the darkness another pair of headlights gleamed brightly, coming directly toward him. Alan wrenched the steering wheel, pulled his car far to the right as the other automobile shot by him.

"Fool!" he muttered, as the whirlwind of snow in his wake swirled around him. His anger passed quickly, however, and he found himself wondering if the driver would make the Price corner.

Carroll was waiting in the doorway as Alan turned in the lane, and beside the car as it stopped. Emily ran right into the snow, and Doc, out of the storm, the farmer said. "Sure glad to see you," he more than a social call on a former student and the daughter of an old friend. Deans of medical schools don't interrupt vacations just to say hello.

"Emily, you look perfectly gorgeous. I'd like to kiss you away from Alan."

The warmth of Dr. Farrell's greeting and the sincerity of his admiration enveloped her as she opened the door to admit him. She kissed his cool, rough cheek, then helped him off with his coat. Emily loved his gentle, understanding manner. He had the physical to mental as well as the power to mental.

"If my husband keeps on deserting me, I'll probably take you up on the 'Doc'!" she said, laughing.

"He left you again? I thought he'd be staying close to the fire tonight. What is it? Some inordinate woman having a baby?"

Emily nodded. "Mrs. Carroll." "And Alan drove out there in this storm? Why didn't he call me? Driving through blizzards is an old man's job. We know how it's done. Why back in 1908?"

"Yes, I know. You and Alan's father drove for weeks without even sleeping in your own beds. That winter was what brought on Dr. Warren's heart attack."

"You're more than right there, Emily. That's why I don't want to go out in this storm. I don't want to have a life's work ahead of me here in Summer. An obstetrician with hands stiffened by frustration, like mine are, can't attain the things Alan will. He should have let me go—I know every inch of that road. Why if he should get stuck in a ditch."

"Dr. Farrell, he'd freeze to death on a night like this! Sudden terror chilled her."

"But there is no danger of that," Farrell said, his face a mask of fear. "All those farmers will know about him. Carroll and they'll be watching for him. They'll worry about him. By the way, what's Dr. Peterson stopping out here for?"

"He's an old friend of my father's and he always has been terribly interested in Alan. Emily's fear of Alan's safety abated as she returned to the subject that was foremost in her mind."

"It's his going to offer Alan a place at the university. Dr. Farrell's father wrote that Dr. Peterson had practically quit when about Alan's work, and about Summer and the chances for success here. I think he wants Alan to come back to St. Louis."

"You'd like that, wouldn't you, Emily?" "I'd like it very much. You don't like Summer very well do you?"

"I don't like it. The ring of the telephone interrupted her. 'Maybe it's Alan's that.' 'Oh, God, let him be all right.' 'Hello, he's left the phone.'"

Mr. Miller, secretary of the Red Deer Agricultural Society, was clerk of the sale. Fitted horses brought fair prices and chunks around 1,400 to 1,500 pounds were most in demand.

Buyers from Eastern Canada did not appear. Among the Eastern men here were G. Williams and Stewart Bros. of Toronto; J. E. Archibald, La Brea, Quebec; M. Lang, Nova Scotia and R. M. Shore, Winnipeg.

The Red Deer Agricultural Society handled the sale this year with the committee of President A. MacCrackin, Don Bowler, J. Day, V. Bjorkeland and H. E. Edgar, in charge.

TARIFFS TAKE MILLIONS IN CLAIM MADE

Stony Plain Member De- mands Realigning Of Rates

Alberta residents have been penalized to the extent of millions of dollars through freight charges and tariffs, W. E. Hayes, R.C. Stony Plain, declared in a motion before the Dominion Board of Transport Commissioners to order a revision of freight bills that would end discrimination against this province.

Mr. Hayes was still speaking when the house rose. He followed J. W. Beaudry, S.C., St. Paul, who on Tuesday had moved the resolution and who concluded his address on Wednesday.

Mr. Hayes contended that there was a "vicious tariff and freight" which finance at the top. He declared that freight was the biggest job of the Dominion government, who in turn, ordered the transport commissioners to justify and make rates and regulations which were so vicious and unjust.

"The vicious and unjust rates and regulations caused discrimination," he said, "which retarded the industrialization of the west and added to the cost of living."

Mr. Hayes said in turn destroyed national unity, he added.

"An examination of Dominion tariff policy from 1867 to 1934 indicates, with the exception of a few years, that the trend of the tariff will have been higher, as though Canadians are well off by virtue of the volume of goods kept out of the country," he said.

ORDER IS FOOLISH

"I want you to grasp the foolishness of such an order whereby a member shall be the sole beneficiary of millions of articles coming into Canada at a rate of 50 to 60 cents," said Mr. Hayes in referring to the fixing of values for duty purposes.

The practice resulted in inflated prices, enormous profits, discrimination against Alberta, the biggest job, he said. Tariffs raised the price of Canadian goods to an unreasonable valuation plus freight charges to discriminate against Alberta, he said, "which penalized the people of Alberta to the value of millions of dollars," said Mr. Hayes.

ACTOR TAKEN ON REFUSAL TO PAY T.V. COSTS

Refusal of the Mundare village council to pay $2,000 owing to the provincial government for care of tubercular and mental patients in provincial institutions who were properly charged on the village was met with direct action by the government on Wednesday.

A statement of the province for the amount was filed in the supreme court on Wednesday morning for the amount claimed and setting out that under the social service act of the province, the village was responsible for payment of $100 a week for the care of mental patients and $15 monthly for normal patients being treated in provincial institutions.

The action is stated to be one of two which are being brought by the provincial government against municipalities that have failed to meet their obligations under the social service legislation.

Urgent Rites Held On Thursday: Was War Veteran

With members of the Canadian Corps Association attending, rites and a memorial service for the City of St. Paul, which was held on Thursday afternoon at 11:45 a.m. at the St. Paul's church, 11424 12th street, died Monday.

Mr. Urquhart served with the Canadian Navy in the Great War and was an active member of the Royal Canadian Naval Reserve here. He was a past skipper of the Edmonton branch of the City Club. Since the war he was an employee of the provincial government.

Rev. Dr. George A. Macdonald conducted the service, which was held in the Edmonton cemetery. Pallbearers were E. J. Stowe, W. H. Hayes, George W. A. Bennett, E. Allen and R. Ellis.

ECONOMY

Saving money is a spendthrift's habit. He likes to spend as much of it as a time as he can. A young man should think twice before marrying. It is a serious financial problem to keep a woman in the style to which she is unaccustomed.

Everyone should budget his expenditures carefully. Otherwise, he will find that food and clothes are taking up so much of his salary, his amusement is suffering.

Charity should be a large part of every budget. If people are willing to give you money when asked, there is no use discouraging them.

Debunker

When we say that the color of a brown, yellow or black person is only "skin deep," we are still not accurate. The skin is made up of two general layers, the outer epidermis and the inner dermis (or true skin). The pigment granules which give color to the dark races are located in the epidermis, in the mucous melanin layer just under the horny outer surface. No blood vessels enter this layer, which is nourished by the deeper melanin capillary layer. So color is less than half "skin deep" at best and outside the true skin.
